

Nehemiah
Principles of Effective Leadership
by dr. stephen r. graves

Chapter 1

- Effective leaders wisely select when and where to invest their energies.
- Effective leaders work as if all depended on them, and pray as if all depended on God.

Chapter 2

- Effective leaders realize that timing is more important than time to God.
- Effective leaders are skillful communicators.
- Effective leaders are not afraid of hard measurements and evaluations.
- Effective leaders prepare for and handle opposition and criticism correctly.
- Effective leaders do their homework and preparation.
- Effective leaders galvanize followers around a clear and compelling vision.

Chapter 3

- Effective leaders know and practice “teamwork wins.”

Chapter 4

- Effective leaders are not sidetracked from their goal by people or circumstantial opposition.
- Effective leaders encourage the celebration of incremental successes.
- Effective leaders balance protecting today’s assets with growing the borders of tomorrow.

Chapter 5

- Effective leaders carefully weigh their top-level privileges against the impact and expense to the rest of the organization.
- Effective leaders can be counted on to model their message.

Chapter 6

- Effective leaders are not afraid to use unconventional methods and strategies to succeed.
- Effective leaders transition starting line enthusiasm into finish line success.

Chapter 7

- Effective leaders realize the critical value of systems and infrastructure.
- Effective leaders realize that people are the most valuable component of any organization.

Chapter 8

- Effective leaders maintain a unique blend of innovation and tradition.
- Effective leaders know when and how to guide their organizations back to revisit and realign on mission, vision and values.

Chapter 9

- Effective leaders are as concerned about the quality and character of the people in their organizations as they are delivering the product goods and services.
- Effective leaders have a way of bringing perspective to any situation.

Chapter 10

- Effective leaders are successful in implementing the vision and operationalizing the strategic plan of an organization.

Chapter 11

- Effective leaders recognize the power of volunteerism and successfully build that into their cultures.
- Effective leaders realize the unmentioned hero/heroine is many times responsible for the success of a venture.

Chapter 12

- Effective leaders realize the value of corporate celebrations.
- Effective leaders reward those who deserve it and share recognition with all those involved.

Chapter 13

- Effective leaders understand that every enterprise must be managed and every organization must be led.
- Effective leaders believe the need to maintain quality and excellence never goes away.